

RAWLINSON & HUNTER ANNOUNCES NEW DIRECTORS

Rawlinson & Hunter has pleasure in announcing the promotions of Yueling Wei, Sarah Fernando and Alan Ive to Director, with effect from 1 April 2019.

March 2019

Yueling Wei (Assurance)

Yueling has been with Rawlinson & Hunter for over 15 years, joining us in 2003.

Yueling is the Firm's foremost specialist in providing services to our AIM-listed and charity audit clients, as well as our private audit clients. Her current and past client portfolio has included several AIM-listed and fully listed clients, and various high profile multinational private companies engaged in major property development and investments, and the largest UK manufacturer and supplier of sports equipment. She is also the Firm's designated expert on the Sarbanes-Oxley S404 projects, and other one off special projects, for Big 4 firms' audit clients.

As well as managing a demanding and technically challenging client workload, Yueling has for many years performed a Departmental Manager role for the Assurance Services Group (ASG). In addition, she has looked after the student training for the Firm's large cohort of ACA and ACCA students, a role which has increased in complexity with the Firm's growing number of students, as well as the introduction of the apprenticeship scheme for ACA students, which she spearheaded.

Sarah Fernando (Business Tax)

Sarah has been with Rawlinson & Hunter for nearly 20 years, joining as a student Chartered Accountant in 1998. Having qualified as a Chartered Accountant in 2001, she transferred to the Tax Department, qualifying as a Chartered Tax Adviser in 2004.

Sarah has extensive tax compliance experience and is responsible for a portfolio of clients that include companies involved in insurance, media, consultancy, recruitment and investment. She is also involved in advising companies and their shareholders on various matters that may arise, for example tax due diligence on company and asset acquisitions, company and group reorganisations, tax efficient employee remuneration, and dealing with HMRC enquiries into company tax returns.

Alan Ive (Private Client Tax)

Alan joined Rawlinson & Hunter as a Chartered Tax Adviser in June 2017 having previously worked at the Big 4. Alan provides tax compliance and advisory services to UK and international high net worth individuals, in conjunction with their business interests and family wealth structures. A significant amount of Alan's clients are domiciled outside of the UK with family trusts.

Having worked with clients across a range of industry sectors, Alan has broad experience from which to advise his client base from both a personal and business aspect. Specifically, Alan has significant experience with Fund Managers from a range of asset classes with respect to the taxation of management fees and carried interest, together with the impact of the changes to non-UK domiciled individuals whom are long-term UK residents. Alan enjoys building close working relationship with clients and their advisers in order to fully understand and optimise their affairs.

Rawlinson & Hunter Managing Partner, Mark Harris, said, "We are delighted to announce these well-deserved director promotions at Rawlinson & Hunter. They showcase the exceptional talent we have at the Firm and our commitment to invest in them as individuals. The wealth of knowledge and experience between Yueling, Sarah and Alan will continue to contribute enormous strength to the tax and assurance services of the Firm."
